Interest In Bond Issues Gets Warm

Approach of Election Sees Various Groups Taking Action

Central Committee Endorses Water Bonds and Plans Vote Canvass

Interest in the various bond issues coming up for vote on Tuesday, July 24, is increasing day by day and a heavy vote seems likely. Monday night the Central Service Committee, representing four civic organizations, met to consider the proposals and a plan of campaign.

Unanimous endorsement of the water bond issue was voted by those present. On the pool bonds, the committee members did not feel justified in choosing between the two proposals for their respective bodies. So they decided to urge the public to study the two plans and vote for either one or both as they see fit.

The organizations represented in the Central Committee are the American Legion, Chamber of Commerce, Kiwanis Club and Volunteer Fire Department. George Norris is chairman of the committee and Ralph Stewart secretary.

To promote interest in the bond election and help get out a big vote this committee has had printed windshield stickers reading, "Vote for the bonds July 24." An organized effort to get out the vote, with transportation furnished and a check on registrations will be planned at the next meeting of the committee.

A rising vote on the three propositions was taken at the meeting of the Kiwanis Club on Tuesday, after City Engineer Gierlich had discussed the water bond proposal. Twenty-three members voted in favor of the $130,000 water bond issue, with none opposed. Seventeen voted in favor of the $30,000 pool with one opposed. Four voted in favor of the $7,600 canyon pool bonds with 13 opposed.

The most active campaigning done so far has been carried on by the Canyon Improvement Association. Various members have assisted in circulating a petition of endorsement for the canyon pool, which has been largely signed. The canyon people have taken the stand that they favor not only their own pool proposal but the $30,000 pool and the water bonds as well.

Absence of active opposition to the bond issues should not be understood to mean there is no opposition. There is always an element which will vote against any bond issue or other proposal which might result in increased taxes. This element does not depend on information as to the merits of any particular project. It is constitutionally "again things."

Then there is said to be another group planning active measures of opposition, particularly against the water bond issue. So far its meetings have been confined to citizens known to be of sympathetic mind. Whatever ammunition has been accumulated is evidently being saved for discharge at the critical point with the near approach of the bond election.

City Clerk Dietz has compiled figures showing the expected effect of the three bond proposals on the tax rate. Assuming the taxable valuation of Sierra Madre for the coming year to be $3,750,000, the tax rate on each $100 of assessed valuation would be as follows: For the $130,000 water bonds, 26 cents; for the $30,000 pool bonds, 6 cents; for the $7,600 pool bonds, 2 cents.

These are the rates for the first year and include current principal and interest payments. Each year thereafter would decrease because interest would be paid on a decreasing principal, and the cost would be spread over a constantly increasing total of assessed valuation.

Everything points to a lively time when election day comes, and predictions vary widely as to the probable outcome on the various questions submitted.

Governor Hunt of Arizona will be the principal speaker at the big summer picnic rally to be held for all former Arizonans on Thursday, July 19th, in Bixby Park, Long Beach. All communications should be addressed to C. H. Parsons, Faber 3300 at the Hotel Rosslyn, Los Angeles.

Dr. Rich Helps John Phillip Sousa Dedicate March

The formation of a band and a concert by the Pasadena Elks band this week has caused Dr. Rich to reminisce regarding the days when he felt the pulses of ailing diplomats and others in the nation's capital. One of the most interesting events he recalls in regard to band music was the dedication of what was to become one of the most famous marches ever written by the most famous "march king" of history, "The Washington Post March," by John Phillip Sousa.

It's a long story, but Dr. Rich says the dedication began early in the day and didn't finish until 3 o'clock in the morning. Dr. Rich was in attendance at the banquet tendered to Mr. Sousa on that occasion.

New Owners Of M'Lellan Store Here

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Specht of Chicago Purchase Dry Goods Business

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Specht of Chicago have purchased the R. G. McLellan Department Store, taking possession this week. The store was closed Monday and Tuesday for stock taking and preparation for opening under the new management.

Mr. and Mrs. Specht and their three daughters have taken quarters temporarily in the Sierra Madre Hotel building. Miss Eunice Specht has just completed her sophomore year at Northwestern University and plans to enter a Southern California college in the fall. The Misses June and Pearl will register at high school.

For many years Mr. Specht has had a store in Irving Park, a Chicago suburb. He has had the assistance of all the members of the family so all are at home in their new store enterprise. Negotiations for the purchase have been under way for some time, being consummated upon their arrival from Chicago this week. This, however, is not Mr. Specht's first visit to California. He chose Sierra Madre after a number of visits in which he became familiar with the entire southwest.

Mr. and Mrs. McLellan expect to leave about the first of August for a two-months trip through the east. They will visit relatives on the Atlantic Coast and in Canada. Their many friends will be glad to know that they expect to return to Sierra Madre in the fall. However, Mr. McLellan says they do not expect to enter upon any other business connection before the first of the year.

Sierra Madre Band Appears In Rehearsal

Fifteen men turned out for the first rehearsal of the newly organized band and a very satisfactory rehearsal was enjoyed under the direction of T. M. Webster. Many of the members are old-timers in Sierra Madre band circles, but the majority is recruited among the young men of the city, upon whose shoulders will fall the task of keeping the band together during the ensuing years.

Several pretentious selections as well as many difficult marches were attacked with enthusiasm, and the consensus of opinion appeared to be that a successful organization can easily be formed.

Leland Auer, a new-comer to the city, has accepted the position of director, and will be present at the rehearsal next Monday night. Mr. Auer is a splendid musician, and is subject to call by the Los Angeles Philharmonic Orchestra, playing with that famous organization about once a week. He is familiar with all types of instruments and has the necessary knowledge of music to bring out the best in the band personnel.

There is a need for clarinets and slide trombones, as well as other instrumentation and anyone desiring to become a member of the band is requested to advise J. N. Hawks, at the office of Andrews & Hawks, on West Central.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe R. Eastwood will attend the summer outing of the California Newspaper Publishers, to be held over the week end at Mount Lowe Tavern.

Elks Band Makes Fine Impression

Splendid Concert Played Here by Band from Pasadena Lodge

Will Return to Assist in Park Out-Door Theatre Dedication

Marking a new and most delightful era in inter-city relations, the famous Elks Band of Pasadena appeared at the City Park Wednesday night in the opening concert of the present summer. Under the able direction of Director C. Burton Downey, the band presented a program of popular and classical selections in a manner that left nothing to be desired, and winning instant recognition among music critics as well as other music lovers in this city.

The difficult selection, "Mile Modiste," by Victor Herbert, was the high spot on the excellent program. Here were brought out the admirable qualities of attack, precision and shading which Director Downey has instilled into his band of talented musicians. "Cocoanut Dance," a brilliant fantasy, and "A Bull in a China Shop" were two other numbers of exceptional merit.

John Newton, vocalist, made a splendid impression with his baritone solos in "Best Loved Irish Melodies," while Edwin A. Taylor, cornetist, and Joe Picha, Sousaphonist, also won prolonged applause. Conductor Downey was generous in his response to persistent encores.

The bandmen were handsomely attired in white serge uniforms, presenting a splendid appearance, while the setting, between the pool and park house, well lighted by many incandescents and flood lights, was most pleasing.

Director Downey is known as a most successful leader, and under his baton the organization is expected to make a remarkable bid for honors at the national Elks convention next year.

Exalted Ruler Joe Krah of Pasadena Lodge, was introduced by W. R. Humphries and spoke of the pleasure it had given Pasadena Elks in planning for the evening's concert. He expressed most cordial good will, and in return his hearers were not slow in showing their appreciation of the good offices of the lodge by giving the chief officer a rousing reception.

Manager C. F. Farmer offered a few choice bits, the most interesting of which was to the effect that the band would be glad to return to Sierra Madre this summer and assist at the dedication of the new park stage.

Many members of the Elks Patrol were present in uniform, but due to a misunderstanding, the tennis courts had not been provided with lights and the drill was postponed until the "return engagement."

After the concert the band men, members of the patrol, wives and sweethearts of the visitors were entertained at a smoker in the Park House, the "spread" being under the capable direction of Mrs. Henry Olsen, assisted by Mr. and Mrs. Norman Morrison, Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Stewart, Mrs. Walter Heber, Mrs. Walsworth, Mrs. Sturmthal Mrs. Hughes and Henry Olsen.

As a night cap, the Sierra Madre quartet sang several numbers, and were invited to sing at a special meeting of the lodge on July 31.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Schiltz, 67 East Highland, entertained a number of guests on Sunday, all being residents or former residents of South Dakota. From Long Beach were Mr. and Mrs. Albert Waneck, Mr. Waneck, Sr., and Mr. and Mrs. Tom Davies. Recent arrivals from Emory, S. D., were Mr. and Mrs. Carl Waneck, Jr., and their four children, Margaret, Joseph, Norbert and Billy, and Mrs. Pat Driscoll and two children, Marie and Edmund. The Driscolls will make their home in Southern California while Carl Waneck and family will return home next month. After a merry reunion and dinner, cards were played, Mrs. Carl Waneck and Mr. Davies receiving the honors.

C. B. Scott, manager of the local Southern Counties Gas office, is enjoying a two-weeks vacation, spending the time, with members of his family, between the beach, Big Bear Lake, San Diego—and the Monrovia lake diamond.

Mass Meeting On Bond Election for Next Tuesday Night

Large attendance is hoped for at the meeting to be held in the city hall next Tuesday night when the three municipal bond issues will be up for discussion. The meeting has been called by the city council as a means of providing voters with full information on the matters at stake.

The meeting is set for 7:45 p.m. This being a somewhat unusual hour, particular attention is called to it in the hope that those attending will be on time and avoid confusion with belated entries while the meeting is in progress.

The meeting will be held in the council chamber. Ample seating will be provided for a large crowd. So far, this is the only public meeting announced for consideration of the bond issues. The questions involved are so important that voters should welcome an opportunity to obtain information and ask questions on points not clear to them.

Health Aims Outlined By Dr. Pomeroy

County Health Officer Tells Kiwanis Club of Modern Methods

Saving lives, raising health standards and saving money through preventive methods, rather than spending money on end results is the aim of modern public health services. That was the summing up of the intensely interesting talk given by Dr. J. L. Pomeroy, head of the county health department, at the Kiwanis luncheon on Tuesday.

Dr. Pomeroy was brought to the club session by Dr. J. M. Furstmann, district health officer, and a member of the Monrovia Kiwanis Club. He was introduced by President Webster.

Dr. Pomeroy said the county health department does not try to impose any particular school or method of treating disease upon the public. It does not insist that people take any treatment at all for whatever ails them. But it does insist that no individual, by reason of his own beliefs, or ignorance, has a right to spread contagion among other people or violate the standards of sanitation laid down by the public health service.

Many people have an idea, said Dr. Pomeroy, that the county should undertake the treatment and restoration of health of those who have approached the end of life by reason of tuberculosis or other dreaded diseases. While the county tries to do its part for those who are unable to help themselves, he declares it vastly more important to devote the public resources to curing those in the early stages, or doing preventive work among the young, than to the treatment of the incurable.

Increase in the number of rabies cases was prophesied by Dr. Pomeroy because the board of supervisors had taken from the county health department all authority in the quarantining or muzzling of dogs. This was done, he said, at the request of a group of anti-vivisectionists and he warned his hearers to be on the lookout of the effects of the action.

During the luncheon City Engineer O. A. Gierlich gave a brief talk on the subject of the city water bonds. Much of the subject matter was embodied in the statement published in last week's News. Mr. Gierlich answered a number of questions raised by members which helped to clarify various points and was rewarded with a pledge of unanimous support from the members present.

Sandwiches and Cakes Wanted for Scout Band 'Spread'

Sierra Madre set a fine precedent last Wednesday night in providing a smoker and 'spread' for the Elk Band. It is the desire of the committee to show the same courtesy to the Scout Band, to be here next Friday night, and donations of cakes and sandwiches are requested.

The Masonic lodge, of which Convers Twycross is master, is co-operating with the committee on the arrangements, and ladies wishing to furnish the above articles may phone Mr. Twycross or Mr. Humphries.

Tennis Meet On the City Park Courts

Men's Doubles Will be Played During Week Beginning June 24

Local Raquet Wielders Will Have Chance to Show Prowess

Who are the best men tennis players in Sierra Madre? This important question is in a fair way to be decided by a week's tourney to be played on the city park courts, beginning July 24. Preston Schwartz and Leslie Miller have undertaken to promote the tournament as a means of stimulating interest in summer activities. The series will consist entirely of men's doubles.

The following rules have been drawn up to govern entries and play during the tournament: 1. All teams must pay $1 entry fee. 2. New balls will be furnished only for finals and semi-finals. If players want to use new balls in the preliminary matches they must furnish the balls. 3. Regular national lawn tennis rules will be used. 4. Tournament to run for six days, July 24-29, inclusive. Finals will be staged Sunday afternoon. 5. All preliminary matches must be played before 12 o'clock Sunday. 6. Both players on team must be residents of Sierra Madre. 7. All matches must be played under appointed referees. 8. Preliminary matches may be played on any court in Sierra Madre, if both sides agree. If they do not agree, they must be played on city courts. 9. Finals and semi-finals must be played on the city courts.

Entrance blanks may be obtained from Roberts Market, Sierra Madre Pharmacy and Hartman's Drug Store, or from Preston Schwartz or Leslie Miller.

New Service Station On Central and Auburn is Completed

Milton Steinberger's new service station on the corner of Auburn and Central is already attracting much attention. The station and grounds are practically finished so far as plumbing, cement work and so on are concerned, and the buildings are being painted today. Mr. Steinberger has a plan of landscaping, with grass plots and several cocus plumosas palms to be planted, and the finished station will be a delight to the eye as well as a convenience to the motoring public.

It isn't often that a frenzied motorist picks on a traffic cop, but that's what happened one day last week when a lady driver attempted to back out and into a spot which should have been occupied at the moment solely by Gordon McMillen and his flivver. The sound of crumpling tin and a popping tire drew the attention of the populace, and it certainly was a delight to see the genial traffic regulator uncoil himself from his steering wheel, dismount and start writing a ticket—for you guessed it, it was a lady. And just as he handed it to her, the second tire popped.

The woodcarvers of Sierra Madre have been having an interesting contest, the evidence of their skill being displayed in the window of the Sierra Madre Hardware company. The test was the carving of the name "Winchester," preferably in conformity with the well known trademark. Prizes offered by the store were Winchester pocket knives. The winners, in order of excellence, were Lawrence Limbaugh, William Peterson, Clarence Barrett, Harry Robertson, Frank Staples, Thurman Corneth, Paul Staples and LeRoy Walsworth.

Dr. Ledger Wood, professor of philosophy at Princeton University, arrived in Sierra Madre yesterday to spend the summer with his mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Wood Friedman, 499 West Central. He will return to Princeton in the fall, but during the spring quarter will take a leave of absence in order to accept an invitation from Dr. Robert A. Millikan to deliver a series of lectures at California Institute of Technology. Dr. Wood is a member of Phi Beta Kappa and other national honor societies and devotes a great deal of time and effort to research work.

Additional Sums Are Given to Aid the Concert Series

The following additional subscriptions have been made to the summer concert fund since the last issue of the News: Dr. C. N. Barker, $1; Col. and Mrs. Herman Hall, $2; E. D. Burbank, $2; Hartman and Son, $5.

More money will be needed as the concerts progress. Contributions may be made to Herbert Ingraham at the Sierra Madre Savings Bank.

The board of supervisors of Los Angeles county is sitting as a board of equalization this week. Supervisor Beatty asks that all churches and charitable organizations which are entitled to reduction in their assessments file their applications not later than this week as Monday, the 16th, is the last day for hearings of this kind.

Final Appeal Is Made for Church Fund

Thank Offering Call is Made for Church Building Fund

Members of the Congregational Church are planning next Sunday to bring to a close the campaign for financing of their new church. Last week the pastor, Rev. A. O. Pritchard, announced that $1500 was still needed to pay in full the contracts on the building. This is the sum needed in addition to the $39,500 already paid in, plus the $35,000 borrowed from the bank.

During the week several members have signified their intention of paying their pledges in full next Sunday. On that day the committee hopes to be able to announce that the entire $1500 has been paid in.

Against the $35,000 bank loan negotiated to facilitate the building operations the church has substantial assets. These include $10,000 to be received from the denominational building society as soon as the contract obligations are met, the old church and site of 100 feet on the north side of Central, and a goodly sum in outstanding pledges, some of which have two years to run.

Considering the absence of active solicitation or high pressure methods of all kinds, the results already accomplished are considered by experienced church workers to be a distinct achievement. Aside from occasional statements as to the status of the campaign, no public appeals for funds have ever been made. There has been no resort to the use of blackboards, holding up of hands or public announcement of contributions. All offerings have been made on a voluntary, free will basis. And the same plan, it is announced, will prevail at the service next Sunday.

Scots Band Next on City Park Series

With the opening concert of the summer series a real triumph, both in attendance and merit, and several other outstanding attractions already promised, Sierra Madre residents seem certain to have a most enjoyable season of music and entertainment, at home.

Next Friday night the Scots Band and Drill team will present a concert at the city park, the program to appear in the next issue of the News. Plans are in progress for entertainment of the visitors, and announcements of great interest will be made later. The tennis courts will be utilized for the maneuvers of the drill team, and it is probable that a dance will close the evening's entertainment.

The behavior of the large audience at the Elk Band concert was admirable, except in spotted instances where some people were annoyed because the band made so much noise the remarks of some of the audience could not be clearly understood. The usual shouts and footraces were enjoyed by irrepressible youth, but all in all the party was most successful.

It is urged that people in the audience refrain from audible conversation during band or vocal numbers at future concerts, as it proves most annoying to those who wish to enjoy the music.

Hear Protests Storm Drain Assessments

Large Number of Property Owners Attend Council Session

Protests Overruled After Expert Makes Explanation of Method

Protests over assessments for the Wilson-Sunnyside storm drain project, and the resulting discussion, occupied a large portion of Tuesday night's meeting of the city council. After various citizens had expressed their opinions, official statements were made which explained but did not satisfy. When it appeared there was nothing more to be said, and nothing to do but pay the bills, the council overruled all protests and confirmed the assessment of costs.

J. O. Smith was the first spokesman for the protesting property owners. He charged the work had been done by the most expensive method, or cost-plus basis; that it had been impossible to get figures in advance of completion of the work so property owners would know what they were in for, and that the distribution of costs on various parcels was inequitable.

City Engineer O. A. Gierlich replied that the cost-plus method had not been used, that the contract was let to H. H. Steinberger at what was considered an exceptionally favorable figure and the price of the work was very reasonable. Advance engineering estimates of the cost were $25,000 while Mr. Steinberger's bid was $21,000, or $7,000 less than his nearest competitor. He insisted the work had been planned according to the best engineering practice. It was impossible to give advance information as to individual assessments, Mr. Gierlich said. The spreading of expense over the district affected could not be done until all items of cost were in at the completion of the project. Full advance notice of the project was given, said Mr. Gierlich, by publication, posting of notices on property affected, and by mailing of postal cards.

Spreading of costs is a specialty job, said Mr. Gierlich, with which neither the council nor the engineer's department had anything to do. As is customary in special assessment districts, the council had hired an expert to prepare the assessment roll H. C. Mapes, who does such work for a score or more of cities.

Upon being called on for explanation of his method, Mr. Mapes pointed out the two distinct things accomplished in the contract. One was the control of storm waters originating north of Fairview Avenue and which at times had run down across lots to Grand View, along Wilson Avenue, and on across Highland and even Montecito. In addition to the flood water control, the project called for re-enforced concrete tops on some of the original culverts along Sunnyside Avenue, and further provision against damage at the foot of Sunnyside Avenue where all the waters are concentrated at the edge of the Baldwin land.

These costs were segregated, said Mr. Mapes. The district benefited by the flood protection was assessed in proportion to benefit derived. He said he had gone over the entire district for personal inspection in arriving at his figures. The cost of the intersection work along Sunnyside Avenue had been spread over the Sunnyside Avenue frontage and on the intersecting streets for one half block in each direction just as intersection work is assessed in all street contracts.

Corner lots were not assessed on the basis of their full double frontage, said Mr. Mapes, but more in proportion to their value with relation to inside lots, or approximately 50 per cent more.

Various property owners raised questions in regard to the assessment of particular parcels, or on general principles. Those participating in the discussion were Mr. and Mrs. John H. Osgood, M. D. Welscher, Miss Elizabeth Steinberger, R. S. Jensen and Dr. May C. Laidlaw.

Mr. Osgood declared the whole expense of the storm drain need not have been more than $3000 if the former council had heeded the protests of the late Captain J. A. Osgood and other property owners against the opening of Wilson Avenue. The damage which has since resulted to property in that tract and the land to the south (Continued on Page Eight)

Firemen Are Drubbed by Kiwanians

The Kiwanis team staged a one-team track meet Friday, on the school ball ground when they put the Firemen's fire out to the tune of 14 to 4.

The ruckus started out with each team making a couple in the first frame, Spears and Pratt crossing the welcome mat for the Kiwanians and Brain and McBurney scoring for the opposites. Not a leaf stirred in the forest in the second stanza, but in the third the Builders laid plenty of bricks, and came back in the next with plenty more, nine in all while the Firemen were still trying desperately to make connections. To put the game away, the construction crew salted three more in the sixth, passing in the seventh and last while the Firemen made a feeble attempt to overcome the tremendous lead by scoring two.

Spears again lead the pack with four safeties, scoring three, while Pratt, Emley, Poehler, Cleary, Reavis each got two markers to talk about to the kids at home (if any.) The sco' bo'd certainly had a sad tale to tell to the doughty Fire crew, but the moving finger wrote it as it happened, and that's that.

The line-up: Kiwanis—Spears, c; Pratt, p; Emley, 1st; Poehler, 2nd; Cleary, 3rd; Reavis, rss; Scott, lss; Lieben, lf; Keegan, rf; Wood, cf.

Firemen—Brain, c; McBurney, p; Heasley, 1st; Brooks, 2nd; Lovell, 3rd; Babbitt, lss; Wilkinson, lf; Johnson, cf; Petzel, rf; Thew, rss.

The frenzied sco' keeper went to the trouble of tabulating the batting averages for the game, and far be it from us to delete the report. There is no fielding average to stare the players in the face, but this goes for batting:

Interesting News Notes from Sierra Madre Canyon

The regular meeting of the Canyon Improvement Association was held in the club house on July 5 with a representative number of enthusiastic members present. The entire evening was given over to the discussion of publicity for the swimming pool and the road-paving program.

E. A. Anderson reported, for the road committee, on necessary methods of procedure for paving under the Mattoon Act. He stated that an investigation had uncovered the fact that paving could be finished in practically one year under this act, whereas the present manner of procedure would require approximately two years. The secretary was instructed to draft a letter to the board of trustees asking that the method of paving canyon roads under the Mattoon Act be changed to the present act and that a reply in writing be requested from the trustees.

An appropriation was made by the association for advertising the canyon swimming pool bonds and a publicity committee consisting of J. P. Nash, chairman, E. A. Anderson and Laura E. Cadmus was appointed to carry on the work.

A special meeting of the association has been called for Thursday evening, July 19. All members and canyon property owners are urged to be present.

J. P. Nash and E. A. Anderson were present at the meeting of the board of trustees on Tuesday night with the letter from the Canyon Improvement Association requesting the paying of canyon roads under the Mattoon Act. The matter was referred to the city attorney for investigation and report.

On Monday morning the publicity committee of the Canyon Improvement Association received the endorsement of nearly every business man in Sierra Madre for the canyon swimming pool.

"Come on, Herby! Come on, Jim! Let's get ready for a swim! For they're gonna fill the swimmin' pool."

And put thought around the rim. Call up Payton! Call up Sam! All the other kids that swim. At that little pool of water. That had gathered by the dam. Let's tell Richard! Let's tell Eddie, that the pool will soon be ready.

'Cause I hear the people talk about it. All the time, and steady. We can see it, we can feel; I imagine I'm a seal. Floatin' round the canyon swimmin' pool—

Daddy tells me if the voters will decide to make us floaters. They'll vote 'yes' on all the 'lection bonds. And not be cruel bloaters."

How many of us "grown ups" have been fortunate enough as kids to have enjoyed a real old swimmin' hole? The writer, for one, knows of just such a swimmin' hole as James Whitcomb Riley wrote about. Off with a pair of knee pants and a waist with nothing else to bother about (unless maybe a torn straw hat.) Many times have we kids stirred up the bottom of the creek sufficient to arouse the disapproval of the owner of the farm that happened to be in the course of the creek. Many times have these angered farmers chased us down the creek (with above mentioned apparel under our arms) to seek shelter in the nearest thicket, only to return to the water when Mr. Farmer returned to his plowing. Only one who knows how much a boy (or girl) really enjoys water can appreciate how badly we need a swimmin' hole. Of course it is understood that at this day and age we do not swim in the old-fashioned swimmin' holes any more than we play in the mud puddles (as we did in days gone by), but we do understand the desire of children for water and swimming.

Now we have an election coming up, that we can fully decide as to whether or not Sierra Madre can have a pool. Personally, I am in favor of both pools, particularly the canyon pool, for regardless of whether we carry the $30,000 pool or not, the canyon pool should be restored. There it lays (you might say) waiting to be filled with water and for the trivial amount of $7,000 it can be made into one of the most attractive and inviting and sanitary swimming pools in Southern California. The natural setting around and near the pool is in itself an incentive to have the pool once more in condition for bathing or swimming. People continue to come to the canyon only to be disappointed to find the pool is not yet restored. Let's vote yes, what say?—J. C. H.

The Canyon Improvement Association has issued invitations to the Firemen and their families to be present at Petzel's gardens in the canyon, near the "old swimmin' hole" on Sunday, July 22nd, from 11 to 3. There will be races of all kinds, games, tug-of-war and horse-shoe contests. Prizes will be awarded. A picnic lunch will be served by the ladies of the association.

On Sunday July 15 at 11 o'clock Vista Circle Drive will play the canyon horseshoe players for the championship of Sierra Madre. Best three out of five games, 50 points each, regular horseshoe rules to apply. James C. Heasley and Gordon Wolfe will represent Vista Circle Drive and E. A. Anderson and A. L. Phelps the canyon. Residents and visitors welcome. Horseshoe grounds at the swimming pool opposite E. A. Anderson's grocery store.

The call of the woods has been sounded and plans laid for a big picnic and outing for Woodmen and their families, who will be guests of Past Consul Lon (E. A.) Anderson at the Canyon Store, 525 Woodland Drive, Sunday July 15. A complete program of sports and entertainment both for young and old promises to make up a delightful day. Mr. and Mrs. Anderson are planning lunch and coffee for a caravan of 300.

Mrs. Laura M. Cline entertained a group of friends at the Hollywood Bowl on Tuesday night for the first concert of the season. Prior to the concert a picnic supper was enjoyed by the party in the gardens adjoining the Bowl. The guests were Meses. Harvey Sloan, Mora Craig, Misses Catherine Davis and Dorothy Petzel.

THOSE WATER BONDS

WHY should Sierra Madre people vote
$130,000 in water bonds?

It is a burden not to be undertaken without careful consideration. There are many reasons for supporting the bonds, some of which can be appreciated only by a highly detailed analysis of the city's water situation.

Other reasons may be stated more simply, and these are in themselves preponderant in favor of the bonds. Some of these may be stated as follows:

Economy: The new pipe installations proposed would eliminate a large annual expenditure for repairs and upkeep. Some of the present mains antedate the purchase of the water system by the city, and may be thirty or forty years old. They are so weakened with age that it has been necessary to spend $2500 in six months for labor and materials to repair leaks. There is no end to this expense except through complete replacement.

Fire Protection: Many additional fire hydrants are needed. Many existing fire hydrants are attached to mains insufficient to supply water for fire engine requirements. Some of the old mains will not stand the strain of pumping by the fire engine. In such districts fire protection is woefully inadequate. Fire insurance rates are higher than necessary and could be reduced with improved fire-fighting facilities.

Storage Needs: Existing reservoirs have a storage capacity equal to what the city uses in a day and a half. Water authorities declare a city should have storage capacity for at least three times the daily requirements. The bond program provides for adding 1,000,000 gallons to the present 3,500,000-gallon capacity. This would still be less than double the daily requirement, a very conservative increase, for protection against serious accident to pumping plant or main line supply pipes.

Equal Treatment: Considerable expenditures are needed to equalize the water facilities in different sections of town. For instance, one tract was laid out, mains laid and fire hydrants installed by the subdivider. The city serves this whole tract through one three-quarter-inch pipe. Fire protection is out of the question. People who have built their homes there are not given their rights, and many prospective home-builders have been frightened away upon learning the condition. This is a rank injustice which can only be remedied by the city installing an adequate main to serve the tract.

Growth: Sierra Madre's population has more than doubled in the past eight years. It will continue to grow, unless growth is stunted by deliberate refusal to provide for fundamental needs. Adequate water supply and distribution is the very first.

Gravity Water: The more water can be developed on the higher levels, the more economy through saving in pumping costs. A substantial sum is provided for this form of development.

On the whole, the reasons for the bond issue seem to far outweigh such reasons as are advanced against it. These reasons deal chiefly with details of the program as outlined by the city engineer and water superintendent. This program is not fixed, and citizens having a reasonable alternative for any of the items proposed will doubtless find the city council open to conviction on the issue.

VOTE YES on the water bonds!

POOL BONDS

NEARLY everybody in Sierra Madre admits the desirability of a public swimming pool. Sierra Madre lags behind every other city in the San Gabriel Valley in failing to provide for this wholesome recreation at home.

Two pool propositions appear on the special election ballot. They are there because of widespread popular demand. It would appear there is ample favorable sentiment to assure a pool bond issue carrying. With two issues before the public there is danger of defeat through misunderstanding of what the two pool plans would provide.

There should be no confusion over the two pools. Both have their merits. But it is not simply a case of the city having a pool on a larger or smaller scale. There are other vital differences.

On East Grand View Avenue the pool site is part of thirty acres owned by the city. The $30,000 would provide a pool of ample size, properly constructed, with complete, modern bath house facilities. The city ground offers ample parking space. The location is such that the pool could be the first unit of a large recreation park, to be developed gradually as one of the finest out-going spots in the whole valley.

Proper design is a vital element in pool construction. The building of a complete new pool on the Grand View site would permit such design. George C. Robinson, superintendent of Exposition Park, visited Sierra Madre last year and gave considerable study to Sierra Madre's park facilities. In discussing swimming pools he laid down some fundamentals of proper pool design. As an expert in recreation park matters, he is a competent authority.

From 75 per cent to 80 per cent of the pool, says Mr. Robinson, should be comparatively shallow, not too deep for non-swimmers. This portion of the pool bottom should slope gradually from depth suitable for children, to a depth in which an adult can wade. Only 25 per cent to 30 per cent of the pool is required for deep-water diving. These percentages are arrived at by study of the actual use of pools and Mr. Robinson's figures are supported by all park authorities.

If a pool is to pay the city a substantial revenue, as many municipal pools do, it must be of ample size. This is assured by the $30,000 proposal.

The Grand View pool plan, then, meets all the requirements of sound policy. It ought to have ample support to put it over.

In the canyon the city also owns a little beauty spot that is worthy of development. It could be made not only an asset to the neighborhood, but to the city. The little pool that was operated there for some years brought delight to many. True, the design is not in accord with the elementary requirements laid down by Mr. Robinson. The shallow portion, which should have by far the larger area, is confined to the small end of the triangle. This could not be remedied without much greater expense than the $7,600 of proposed bonds.

Narrow streets and limited parking facilities are also a handicap to popular use of this canyon pool. The canyon people with characteristic generosity, have offered the use of private ground for parking, but this does not give the needed assurance of permanence. The canyon pool is worth the price, but it should not be supported as providing a substitute for the Grand View Avenue pool of adequate size and proper design.

Vote Yes on the $30,000 pool bond issue. And then vote for the $7,600 pool bond issue if you think the city can afford it.

WITHOUT PRINTING

"WITHOUT printers, the teachers of the wages would have taught in vain; the dreams of philosophers would have finished with the tapers that burned for their meditations. Printing is the science of all sciences, the art of all arts, for it has opened the land of fair opportunity to the untold millions. Since its discovery and application, mankind has experienced more pleasure, greater enlightenment, larger happiness, truer liberty, than has come to it with the blind gropings and the voiceless aspirations of the countless centuries preceding."

Reservations

By J. R. E.

If a lot of our good Saturday Nighters wish to make the most of every opportunity that is offered, they had better begin doing a little shouting for the old swimmin' hole bonds that are to be offered for public consumption soon. Inasmuch as the city council couldn't decide on one site, they passed the buck to the voters, and we can have two pools, one pool or no pool, just as the majority of us want—and work for.

It would have simplified the proposition a lot if the council had made the selection and put up one proposition. Practically everyone agrees that one pool, offered alone, would have coasted to easy endorsement by the people. As the proposition now lines up, it looks as though most of us will have to vote for two in order to insure one.

The canyon people have plenty of good arguments pointing to the reconstruction of their pool, and they must be given great credit for going after what they want in a business-like manner. They will win a lot of votes through their aggressiveness and may put their proposition across while the proponents of the Grand View site are still trying to get organized.

On the other hand, the Grand View pool is designed as a permanent part of the city's recreational facilities, as well as the beginning of development for the city park system in that area. It should, in fact, become the city playground, with the swimming pool, playground for the children, baseball ground, and shade and lawn for those of us who just want to sit.

Charley Paddock has been given a clean bill of health and the chap who objected to Charlie's baby-blue pants has resigned from the Olympic selections board. Which leaves the situation as it should be.

At that, it must give Paddock small satisfaction to see prize pugs gather in hales of ducats for catching a few wallops on the whiskers, when a clean-cut college athlete gets nothing but a chance to run for his "dear old alma mater."

The murder, bootleg and kindred stories in Los Angeles papers would sound just as well and promote a better taste in one's mouth if the police weren't always "combing" such and such places as "known hangouts of the underworld."

Which leads one to remark that the Venice merchants didn't find out that tango is a gambling game until the operators broke their pledge to buy all their "valuable prizes" in Venice stores.

All right, bring out the carpet slippers; Aimee is back on the front page again!

Nothing is perfect! Although the bulk of the citizenry thought the recent 4th of July celebration approximated that desirable status. But one disappointed resident is alleged to have told Dave Buchanan it was alright except for a certain part of it. "Well," remarked Dave, again letting his well-known Scotch sense of humor get the best of him, "if you didn't like it, why don't you go and get your money back?"

Aside from that one disappointment, however, the celebration was 100 per cent perfect, according to all available data. In fact the burden of conversation concerning celebrations in general is what can be done to make the 4th stand out in 1929. That's the spirit!

Don't forget, folks, that the party was started by just a few people and was overwhelmingly successful. The same thing can be done with any other project that is designed for the welfare of our people—if we cooperate.

H. E. Allen, president of the Sierra Madre Savings Bank, has established his family at Balboa eBach for an outing. He is spending week ends with them.

Fine Service Rendered by Service Section—

Although the Woman's Club has discontinued regular meetings and general business for the summer, the section for Service to Disabled Soldiers, under the able leadership of Mrs. Laura Cline, carries on as usual.

As the name implies, this section was created to render every possible service to the disabled veterans of the United States armies. A committee visited the Soldiers' Home at Sattelle to learn how and where they might do the most good. The Red Cross nurse in charge advised Surgical Ward Number Nine, where from twenty-seven to forty-five totally disabled veterans were confined.

Acting on this suggestion, Ward Number Nine was adopted as a special field, and later, the Blind Ward, company Number Eleven, in which which are thirty to thirty-five veterans of the Civil and Spanish Wars.

Last week Mrs. Cline and Mrs. Leighton visited the wards, taking orange juice, oranges, apples, home-made candy and cookies, and cigars, which the distributed to the veterans.

These men receive very little attention and are very grateful for any courtesy extended. "Tell Sierra Madre Woman's Club that we thank them," is the message they send back to the club, for all the section work is done in the name of the club and all credit goes to it; individual names are not mentioned at the Home.

Revealing a great loneliness, which is the common lot of these veterans, is this little incident: An old soldier who had recently come to the Home from Minnesota, was writing a letter, and had not observed the entrance of the ladies till one of them offered him a drink of orange juice. He looked up, mystified, and after gratefully accepting the drink, asked the lady to read the last two lines he had just written. He had expressed his great loneliness and longing for home touches—to see women and children about, and not just sick men everywhere. With deep emotion he remarked that he had never had a prayer answered so quickly.

These "treats" have been made possible through the generous response of the club women to the section appeals for donations. The home-made candy and cookies are the special enjoyment of the men.

One club woman gave a blanket to be given to a needy boy. This boy was found and extreme gratitude for the gift expressed.

On July 1, the section was informed, Red Cross aid was withdrawn from the Home, no funds being available, and the only help in the future will have to come thru outside welfare work.

Card Party at St. Rita's—

Mrs. Wynne and Mrs. Marcotte will be hostesses at a card party to be given Tuesday evening, July 17, at St. Rita's Auditorium. Play will begin at 8:15. These parties have become deservedly popular, and great friendly rivalry is always manifest in striving for the many fine prizes that are offered by the hostesses. Everyone is invited to attend.

Joint Picnic at the Beach—

The retiring board of 1927 of the Woman's Club and the new 1928 board enjoyed a joint picnic at the beach cottage of Mrs. F. L. C. Roess at Balboa Beach on Wednesday, July 11. The personnel of the two boards include: Miss Harriet Grant, Mmes. F. H. White, Ray Grant, John Osgood, Nestor Young, W. R. Lees, Harvey Steinberger, N. W. Tarr, Herman Hall, R. S. Corlett, C. W. Collins, W. R. Humphries, Walter Poehler, Frank Hart, F. L. C. Roess, E. E. Bacon, Carrol King, W. E. Walker, Homer Glidden, J. N. Hawks, E. H. Porter, F. W. Swift and Miss Clara Sykes.

Hebrew Educational Center to Celebrate—

The Hebrew Educational Center of Sierra Madre will celebrate the close of a most successful season of its Hebrew school in a very unique manner. The pupils of the school will present a play, sing various Hebrew songs, and will recite poems in Hebrew and Yiddish. Dr. George J. Saylin, president of the Los Angeles Kehillah, and Dr. L. G. Reynolds, the well known Hebrew scholar, will speak. Other prominent men and women will participate and help to make the affair a delightful one.

Supper will be served and an enjoyable evening is assured. All interested are requested to come, Sunday, July 15, 1928, at 5 p. m., at the Woman's Club House, 270 West Central Avenue, Sierra Madre.

Mrs. Estelle E. Davis, formerly of Michigan, is visiting Mrs. Gertrude B. Miller of 439 West Marioposa. Mrs. Davis is in California to attend the World Sunday School convention. Although eighty-five years of age she travels alone between three places of residence, in Michigan, Alabama and California. At her family home in Oakdale, California, she does most of the housework for a family of five. Because of her unflagging energy, unusual mentality and interest in church and social affairs she has a large circle of friends thruout the communities in which she is best known.

Woman's Club during the summer. Local, county and state bond issues and several initiative and referendum measures of special interest to women's organizations will be presented for round-table discussion. Mrs. D. Taylor, chairman of public improvement financing, will present a speaker at the August meeting.

Next Wednesday, July 18th, the chairman, Mrs. Lawless presiding, the section will consider the national party platforms, particularly in relation to the woman's program. Recognizing that the major party platforms supposedly indicate what both executive and legislative officials will support as to policies and legislation, the discussion will be analytical rather than partisan.

The Los Angeles district and the state Federation of Women's Clubs are committed officially to certain measures that have reached federal status. Among these, infancy and maternity acts, federal control of child labor, enforcement of prohibition, and the Boulder Dam bills are of immediate interest. The General Federation endorses pure milk bills and Indian legislation.

Mrs. Kelly of the Republican Women's Study Club of Los Angeles, chairman of Current Politics, will discuss the Republican platform and Secretary Hoover.

A speaker from the Democratic county central committee will discuss the Democratic platform and Governor Smith. A question period will follow, during which each person may ask a question, or express an opinion.

These summer meetings are open to all club members, and women of Sierra Madre who are interested in the subjects announced. Those attending will bring sandwiches and coffee will be served promptly at 1 o'clock.

J. N. Hawks was at Monrovia Saturday evening, where he assisted the newly organized Monrovia band in its first open-air concert in the city park.

News Notes from Here and There

Zoning laws to protect the state highways may become general in the future, according to legislation under consideration in various states. A bill before the Massachusetts legislature which has been referred to the next session will zone 1,600 miles of state highway. The principal object of such legislation is to abolish the so-called automobile slums which now disfigure the principal roads of Massachusetts, as well as other New England states. The proposed law lays down definite regulations for control of the use of the land for a distance 500 feet back of the roadway and to require permits for erection of buildings for any use other than in connection with the growing and sale of the natural products of the land.

With the government authorizing tree planting along federal aid highways in the future, it is believed that this sort of roadside beautification will be greatly stimulated. A total of 7,723 trees bordering more than 31 miles of highways was planted during the past year in Los Angeles County by the forestry department. A total of $25,717 was spent in this work but the result is so successful that a larger appropriation is being considered. According to the county forester it is the intention to continue planting until every primary traffic artery is lined on both sides with shade trees and ornamental trees.

California's registration makes up almost two-thirds of the 3,000,000 automobiles in the eleven western states.

During the past ten years, the sum of $8,994,040,691 has been spent on state, county and local roads in the United States.

Jazz Concerto to Be Featured at Hollywood Bowl

A "jazz" concerto, which created a furore in Boston and New York last season, when played under the baton of Koussevitsky, celebrated Russian symphony conductor, will be the sensation of the second week of the Hollywood Bowl summer concerts.

Aaron Copeland, 27-year-old composer of this ultra-modern music, will be the soloist at the Bowl on Friday night, July 20, and play his much-discussed composition. Lovers of both classical music and jazz will find Copeland's work interesting and intriguing.

Albert Coates, who has directed with such vigor and finesse during the first week of the Bowl season, will appear as guest conductor during the second week, with programs on Tuesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights.

Coates' reputation as one of the world's greatest conductors is fast becoming known throughout the Southland, and even greater crowds are expected during his second week at the Bowl.

Editor, Sierra Madre News.

Dear Sir: In a recent editorial in the Sierra Madre News, we were encouraged to make known our desires for the coming year to the members of the city council, and if we wanted lower taxes to say so. I, for one of many in our city, would like to see the taxes reduced, the general feeling being that they are too high already.

However, after listening last night to the protests and appeals on the Sunnyside Avenue improvement project which included the Wilson Avenue storm drain, we are inclined to feel the uselessness of making such suggestions or protests.

The council listened patiently to the protests against the storm drain and improvement assessments, which most of us feel were altogether too high for benefits received; explanations after a fashion were made, and then, after most of the people had left, they passed a form type of resolution favoring the assessments as laid out, etc.

The whole meeting for protests appeared to some of us as simply a farce, and a routine form made necessary by law. The general feeling prior to the meeting was that the protests may as well not be made, because it would not do any good. Such a feeling is a sorry commentary on the system of self-government, and certainly is not conducive to the highest type of citizenship. But then, we probably do not understand all the intricacies of the proceedings, and have to take what is presented to us regardless of whether we like it or not.

Fortunately, the people have at least one recourse, which is the ballot. Unkindly feeling developed by what so many may consider as unjust assessments will probably show itself by the use of the ballot, so that projects normally good in themselves are very apt to suffer.

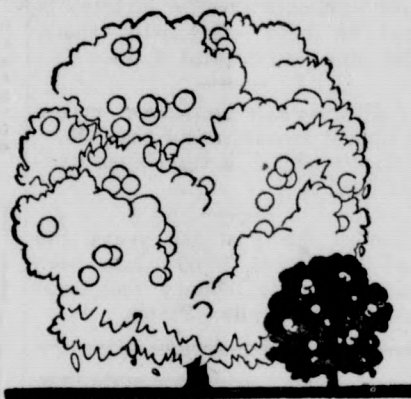

Yours truly,

J. R. Evans.

With a two-year job ahead in the way of preliminary ground-work, citizens of Ontario have embarked on a comprehensive program of city beautification. Parks, playgrounds, streets and zoning each have a part in the plans and the far-sighted backers of the project are determined that Ontario shall be a place of exquisite beauty.

Figures taken from the books of the state comptroller show the following costs per capita of city government in various California cities: San Jose, $16.27; Bakersfield, $16.83; Santa Barbara, $17; Berkeley, $17.95; Alameda, $19.82; Fresno, $22.76; Riverside, $23.46; Santa Ana, $25.39; Sacramento, $28.47; San Diego, $31.72; Long Beach, $32.48; Santa Monica, $36.64; Stockton, $44.77; Pasadena, $35.04.

20 years of Progress in the California Citrus Industry

A tribute to the marketing efficiency of the California Fruit Growers Exchange.

ABOUT 20 years ago many California citrus growers became alarmed at an apparent over-supply of citrus fruits. They wondered whether the California Fruit Growers Exchange would be equal to the task it faced. The annual American consumption of oranges had remained at 2½ dozen per person for several years. Lemon consumption was stationary at one dozen per person. Shipments abroad were almost nil. Prices were only fair and in danger of declining. It was becoming more and more difficult to sell the annual crop.

Yet new groves were coming into bearing. More plantings were being made. Foreign competition in American markets was keener than before. Florida was on the verge of a great increase in citrus production.

Truly a crisis. A gloomy outlook.

The Exchange, then handling 54% of the California crop, set about for a solution.

It increased consumer demand through advertising and concentrated sales promotion.

It enlarged its membership so that California shipments could be co-ordinated and more easily adjusted to supply and demand, thus insuring consistently higher prices.

It cut down production costs through cooperative buying.

It improved the quality of its fruit and marketed it under one brand name—Sunkist—so that Exchange growers might receive a premium wherever their fruit was sold.

The Result

Today California citrus production is more than three times that of 20 years ago. Yet the prices now received by Exchange Growers are higher than ever before. American per capita consumption has been practically doubled. Oranges, once a luxury, are now a necessity.

The annual lemon consumption has risen from one dozen to 1½ dozen per person.

Culls are turned into cash through two efficient by-products plants.

Through the development and sale of the Sunkist Electrical Fruit Juice Extractor, a new market has been created that now absorbs over 5,000 carloads of citrus fruits per year.

Foreign sales resistance has been lessened. Last year Exchange growers shipped over 500,000 boxes of oranges to Europe alone.

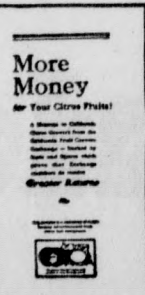

Advertising, backed by standardized products, has made "Sunkist" the by-word for citrus fruits.

Join the Exchange

While the widespread success of the Exchange benefits the entire California Citrus Industry indirectly—only those who are Exchange members get the full benefit of this great advance. Hundreds of growers who have tried other agencies to dispose of their crops will confirm this statement. Ask them. Then you will want to join the Exchange yourself.

The manager of the nearest Exchange association or District Exchange will furnish you complete information. Or write for further information to California Fruit Growers Exchange, Box 530, Station "C," Los Angeles.

The picture of health in childhood changes with the era when the picture is made. The picture today tries to give standards for normal health in children.

Dr. Hugh Chaplin says "Because there are so many under-nourished and just average children we are likely to be satisfied with an average standard of health, which means a low one. The need is for a standard of optimal health which will show us how far the average falls short of what we might easily attain."

The "optimal child's" picture of health shows a well-developed body of firm, strong muscles, straight bones in arms and legs; well-proportioned joints; strong, limber arches; a well formed chest and shoulders; a clear, soft skin; a goodly supply of fat beneath the skin; red lips; sound, well-set teeth; unobstructed nose and throat; thick, glossy hair; bright, clear eyes free of squint and dark fatigue rings underneath; suitable weight for height, age and body build.

This "optimal child" has not only a well built body but a well functioning body which is shown in a happy alert manner, a good posture, good muscle team work, endurance for the ordinary work and play of children and ability to be restfully quiet a part of each day.

All children have the right to this high standard of health thru good parentage and proper care. Wholesome home environment, good habit training, good food, plenty of sleep and rest, fresh air, sunshine and outdoor play are essential for the full development of the optimal child.

Eight Weeks For Summer Health Work

Third Annual Health School Making Fine Progress In Work

Miss Romani In Charge of 29 Lively Young Pupils

With the second week of the summer health school coming to a close some of the children have already begun to show the beneficial effects. The first week was interrupted by the holiday and with the distractions incidental to getting organized, pupils and teachers were hardly able to get into the full swing of the program until this week.

Miss Hope Romani, formerly school nurse here but more recently of Whittier, is in charge. She says she is delighted to be in Sierra Madre again and is in her old quarters at the Welsher home.

In class instruction Miss Romani is assisted by Miss Forster, a graduate kindergarten. All sorts of interesting things are done to make the sessions interesting and to help impress the health lessons which are taught. Miss Burgess returns to take charge of the dietetic work. She is in charge of the preparation of meals in the school cafeteria and also gives the special instruction in diet. Miss Burgess has served here in the same capacity the past two summer sessions.

Gains in weight and other favorable results have already been noted among the twenty-nine youngsters who are enrolled, according to Miss Romani. There is every indication that they are enjoying the work, which is an interesting combination of classroom work, rest periods and refreshments. Sunbaths in the open air were begun this week. The boys and the girls take turns in the enclosure which has been arranged on the handball court. The periods are carefully calculated according to individual needs and capacity.

Fruit donations would be welcomed for the use of the health school, according to Miss Romani. Miss Elizabeth Steinberger, school principal, has secured several boxes of oranges from the packing house, orange juice and tomato juice being important items in the health diet. Persons who would like to help this splendid work of building up undernourished children or those exposed to tubercular infection have here a fine opportunity.

Proof of Valor

Wife: "When we were married, I thought you were a brave man." Husband: "So did a good many other people."—Kansas City Star.

Hard Luck All Around

Stanley Taylor, of Colgate College, came home unexpectedly by a short time ago, only to find his sister ill with scarlet fever and the home quarantined. However, he spent several days visiting his grandfather and while here took the evil service examinations at the post-office.—Danbury (Conn.) paper.

REWARD OF $250 OFFERED

Jacob Heighler, formerly of Bird-in-Hand, Lancaster, Pa., left his home to seek his fortune when a boy of twenty. About fifty years ago he returned home to his relatives and told them that some day they would all be wealthy. He had been in California and presumably returned here. He died in the fall of 1889, which fact was published in the Lancaster county papers, but the exact location was not given, being stated as somewhere in Southern California. A reward of $250 is offered for information establishing the facts of his death, by O. H. Shenk of Lancaster, Pa.

Highway construction during 1928 thruout the nation probably will establish a new high mark, according to federal reports. In addition to road work to be done by states, counties, and communities there will be nearly 9,000 miles of hard surfaced road built, over 12,000 miles of less expensive surfaces, and 8,000 miles of road graded and drained. In addition to the prospect of new records in federal highway work, many state highway departments plan record years as in many states there are more funds available for construction purposes than ever before.

Former residents of Illinois are looking forward to their annual summer rally all day Saturday, July 21st, 1928, in Bixby Park. Long each, according to the society's president, Henry J. Brubaker. Hot coffee will be served and silk souvenir badges supplied.

The ninth annual safety essay and lesson contest for school children and school teachers has been announced by the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce in Washington. More than $6,500 in prizes and medals are offered in this event. As usual details for Southern California will be handled by the public safety department of the Automobile Club of Southern California.

FLIES

JUST about four-fifths of your home is MADE up of walls and ceilings AND naturally if those WALLS and ceilings are NOT spic and span, it REFLECTS on everything ELSE in the home, which BRINGS up the subject OF flies—you know there IS nothing so attractive AND pleasing as a home FREE from germ-laden flies AND other insects and NO LONGER is the bothersome FLY a summer necessity—JUST close up the room AND then spray Elkey's FLY-KIL freely in all DIRECTIONS up into the AIR so that insects will COME in contact with the VAPOR and in ten minutes ALL the flies and mosquitoes WILL be dead and as Fly-Kil EVAPORATES rather quickly IT may be sprayed carefully AND lightly without damage OR stain to wall paper, RUGS or clothing.

was foretold and he did not believe it fair to assess those property owners after disregarding their protest.

L. E. Steinberger, former councilman, closed the discussion with brief remarks. He advised his fellow property owners that the time for protest against the project was past. Protest should have been made when the original resolution of intention was adopted. He said he made an oral protest at that time, but was lulled into a sense of security by assurances that the burden would not be very heavy. Now the work is done and must be paid for. "It costs us a lot more than we expected, but there isn't anything left to do but pay it."

W. P. Caley appeared before the board to protest against the adoption of an amendment to the zoning ordinance which was introduced at the last meeting. He declared it would be unjust to prohibit the keeping of burros or animals for hire at the Mt. Wilson Stables property which had been devoted to such use for forty years. At one time all of such business had been concentrated there by order of the city government because that was regarded as the most suitable place in town. After some discussion the matter was put over until the next regular meeting of the board in order to give a hearing to both sides of the question, several property owners in the neighborhood having petitioned for adoption of the ordinance when operation of the burro corrals was suspended recently.

Messrs. Nash and Anderson, representing the Canyon Improvement Association, appeared to back up a written request for the canyon street improvement project. The association members were not satisfied with Attorney Baker's oral statement to that effect. They said they wanted his written statement so it could be considered by their own attorney in the hope of expediting the street improvement.

Col. Herman Hall again acted as mayor pro-tem, Councilmen Belohlavek and Myers making up the council quorum. Mayor Thayer and Councilman Isaacs are still in the east, although Cal. Hall said he expected Mr. Thayer home within a few days.

Request was also made by the canyon association for permission to place a sign in front of the city hall urging support of the canyon pool bond issue. They were under the impression that there was a sign there asking support for the water bonds and wanted the same privilege. Upon being assured that the existing sign merely urged voting at the election and not for or against any particular issue, the canyon people withdrew their request.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Froehlich are now at home in their new home, recently completed at 145 West Carter Avenue. With them is their son, Peter Froehlich, and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Krinke and baby. Mrs. Krinke being their daughter. Mr. Froehlich is engaged in the fountain pen business in Los Angeles, having a shop in the Grosse building and another in the Arcade building.

E. B. Gray, who left recently with his family for an overland trip east, writes a fellow townsman as follows: "Have had a great trip, making the last 1241 miles in three days. One tire retreaded by Myers before we left Sierra Madre came thru with Sierra Madre air in it. New rear tires were cut to pieces and had to buy new ones at Flagstaff, Arizona."

Mrs. Nestor A. Young entertained with afternoon tea on Thursday in honor of Mrs. Frederick C. Blake of Columbus, O., and Mrs. Keller Kinn of Lancaster, Ohio. The latter has recently arrived by auto with her children for a visit at the home of her sister, Mrs. Bennett Hinkley of West Highland Avenue. Delightful musical numbers formed a part of the afternoon's entertainment. Mrs. Mildred Horn of Alhambra sang, with accompaniments by Mrs. Hinkley; piano selections were played by Keller H. Kinn, Jr., John Kinn and Miss Louisa Kinn. In addition to a number of Sierra Madre people, the guests included Mrs. Irving Adams of Westwood, Mrs. Roy Young of Glendale, Mrs. Henry B. Ayers of Pasadena, and Mrs. Alice Sherfy Houston of Los Angeles.

I believe in Sierra Madre

A fellow citizen the other day asked me if I believed in the sign carried on the rear of my Dodge. The words on the sign appear at the head of this small ad. My reply was, Yes, sir! He plied me further with questions and asked for proof. Here's some of the proofs:

I've invested good cash in five pieces of property; I've improved every piece, either by building or planting; over 1500 letters have been mailed from my office; over 3000 pieces of printed matter regarding Sierra Madre, purchased and given to the public; an average of $15.00 per month spent on telephone calls; a lot of hard work and now street assessments amounting to about $1,100. Then I've put money into electroliners and still I believe in Sierra Madre.

Where is there a better place to live, more congenial people and a place where the expenditure of some dollars will show good returns on the investment? Values are made by demand, hard work and, of course, brains. Forty per cent more business can be done by all stores and offices in this city without any more overhead, but it takes under-the-skull treatment to get over the overhead and sometimes that goes over the head, doesn't it?
